Tilana Cloud™ Developer Kit

n/c

An integrated set of client and server APIs for the Tilana CDP Storage and Sync System. Available only to licensees of Tilana RealCDP Server.

Web API

Building rich browser based client UIs that talk to servers enabled with Tilana RealCDP server software. Includes a SOAP based API which enables remote data space and user account management, and can also be used for integrating applications that use .NET services.

Full Client API

Build fully custom PC or Mac desktop client software. Custom applications can have the same power as the Tilana Client desktop software. Developers use a COM interface for building Windows desktop agents, or COCOA for Distributed Objects interface for building Mac OS X desktop agents.

Storage API

Make any application talk directly to servers enabled with Tilana RealCDP. Access proprietary Tilana transfer protocol, diff algorithm, and server side encryption functionality for integrating any data management application with Tilana powered storage.
